Business and Diplomacy in the Tyumen region

The main factor in the growth of the Tyumen economy is the development of the industry. Today this sector forms the largest part of the gross regional product. Over the past ten years, GRP has more than doubled. Industrial output has tripled. Growth is mainly due to the manufacturing industry. The main investments are directed to the creation of new industrial production. Over the past 10 years, in the region 50 enterprises have been put into exploiting, 9 of them have been opened by foreign companies. In fact, new industries such as oil refining and petrochemical chemistry, large-scale polymer production and processing, ferrous metallurgy, glass and biotechnological production have appeared in the region. An effective system of state support for business has been formed and is operating in the region.
